Backend Team: Andrejs Grisin, Vitalina Alipova, Anastasia Petrova, Alan Kurilov

Frontend Team: Igor Sieradzki, Anca Morosan, Arushee Kumar, Kunal Sharma

This week our team focused primarily on preparing the prototype, testing the application, and finalizing the presentation materials.

The backend team concentrated on fixing bugs and improving the stability of the application. Andrejs resolved several issues related to the GCP cloud deployment and successfully fixed deployment errors. Anastasia and Vitalina reviewed and tested his solution to ensure that the deployment process worked correctly and consistently.

The frontend team continued working on the user interface and design improvements. Anca redesigned the login page according to the updated UI concept and integrated Lucide icons into the application. She also completed the redesigned registration page and implemented a custom 404 error page following the new design guidelines.

In addition, the entire team worked on refining the prototype that was presented during the midterm presentation. We tested the main application workflows, identified remaining issues, and verified that the core functionality worked as expected.

We also coordinated our remaining tasks, discussed priorities for the final project phase, and developed a detailed plan for completing the remaining features and preparing for the final presentation.
